What to Expect:
Learning from the Past

What to Expect

- Continued refinement of the guidelines
- Collaboration is required for success
- Ongoing education will be necessary

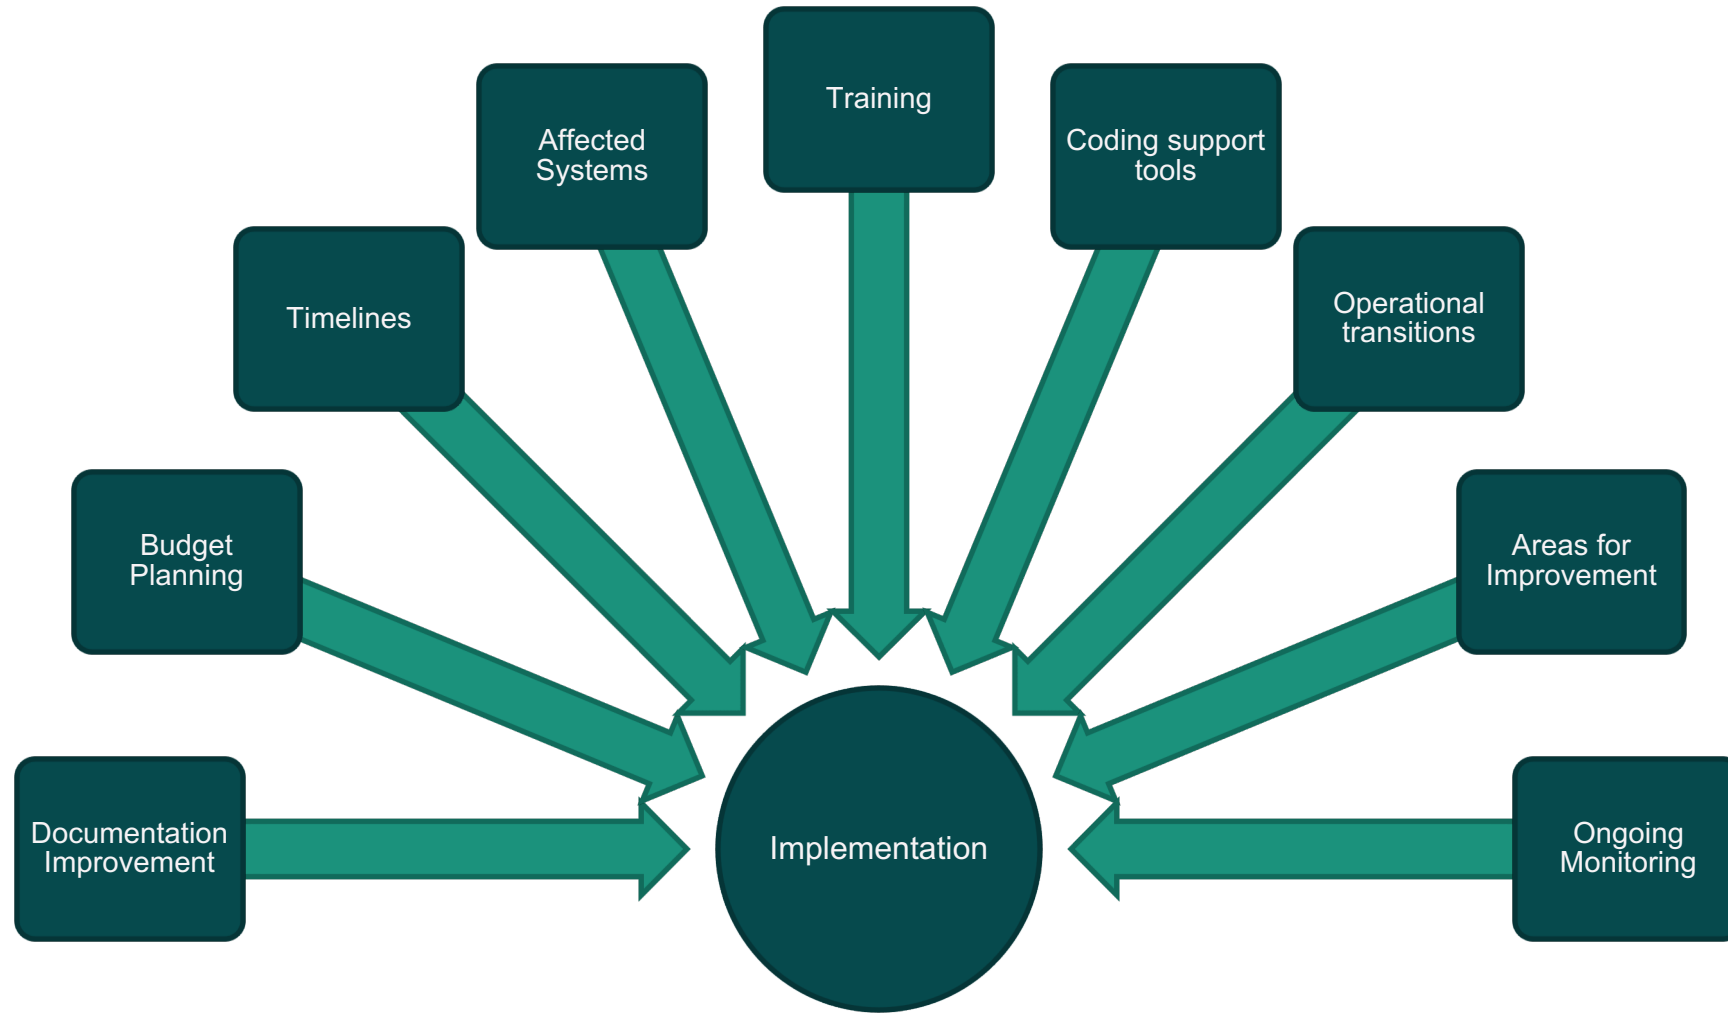

Implementing Change

- Largest E/M Guideline change since 1997
- Challenges for large practices
 - Communication/organization
- Challenges for small practices
 - Resources

Implementation Process

Vendor Discussions

- What implementation plans do they have?
- What software changes are needed?
- What products and services will be available?
- How long will development take?
- When will installation take place?
- What guidance/training will be available?

Documentation Improvement

- Identify areas of improvement by reviewing records
- Determine if changes need to be made to templates to assist with documentation capture
- Focus training using examples of documentation that need to be improved

Budget Planning

- Determine costs
 - Education
 - Audit of medical records
 - Changes to EHR templates
 - Changes in workflows

Timelines

- New guidelines go into effect January 1, 2023
- Need to establish a timeline for:
 - Assessing EHR changes and working with vendor
 - Training
 - Audits
 - Monitoring

Affected Systems

- Audit tools
- Code look up tools
- EHR
- Encounter forms/Chargemaster

Coding Support Tools

- E/M calculator tool
- Code cheat sheets
- Audit tools
- Code look up software

Operational Transitions

- Review current workflow
- Determine if it meets the needs
- Will added tasks need to be implemented to monitor accuracy?

Takeaways

- Ensure coding and auditing are aligned with care delivery
- Changing behavior is hard. It requires continued:
 - Employee Education
 - Quality Reviews
 - Process Improvements
